Celebrate a Life — Plant a Tree

One of the nicest things you could do in honor of a favorite person, or in memory of a loved one, is to plant a tree in Lexington. Offering shade and beauty to a public street or park for perhaps a hundred years, a tree is a celebration of life.

A Memorial Book will be kept in perpetuity in the Town's Cary Memorial Library and will offer space for a written page of the honoree's accomplishments, photos, joys, and memories.

When should we celebrate life or honor someone with a natural memorial?

The planting of a tree can be a celebration for any occasion such as an anniversary, graduation, birth, or wedding. Very often it is in remembrance of a special person in your life (such as a family member or a teacher).

A donor's gift to The Lexington Tree Fund will cover the cost for obtaining and planting the tree, and for its maintenance costs.

Where would my tree be planted?

Your tree could be planted in one of Lexington's parks, on school or public grounds, or along a street to shade all who pass. You may select the site from a list of those available, in consultation with the Tree Warden.

How much does it cost to purchase a tree?

The charge for a tree is a one-time payment of $1500, covering life-long maintenance, registration, and a replacement guarantee. (If the tree fails, it will be replaced at no cost to you.) Depending on the species, it will be five to eight feet tall at transplanting.

Questions you should consider when choosing a memorial tree:

1. What was the person's favorite spot to visit? Could a tree mark the area?
2. What were the person's hobbies? Can a species of tree represent those activities? For instance, if the person loved bird-watching, you might choose a tree attractive to birds. Is there a particular symbolism that would be appropriate? (For example, oaks represent longevity.)
3. Would you want spring or fall colors? There are many varieties that give beautiful color effects, so don't limit your selection to just those with which you are already familiar.

4. What inscription, text, or pictures do you want to include in the Memorial Book?

What trees could I plant?

The following are among trees recommended for planting on Lexington's streets and public places (parks, schools, etc.): Scarlet Oak, Tulip Tree, American Hornbeam, Yellowwood, Serviceberry, Red Maple, River Birch, American Elm, Redbud, Sourwood, and many others, both native and non-native. Please see the list in the Town's Tree Management Manual, and consult the Tree Warden.
